APRIL 2024

Lower Your Bill

Are you taking advantage of how you can save water each month? As we recognize Water Awareness Month, we want to help our customers make the most of tools and resources to reduce water consumption and monthly water bills.

- Conservation Kits: Request a free kit by emailing conservation@epcor.com.
- Conservation Specialists: Visit epcor.com/conservation for tips on how to save water inside and outside your home.
- Native Outdoor Landscaping: Implement native, low water-use plants or xeriscape in your yard for easier maintenance and less outdoor water use.
- Rainwater Harvesting: Redirect or collect rainwater to improve landscape irrigation by spreading it across your yard, directing it toward planting areas and allowing it to sink into your landscape.

We also offer educational programming and drought-tolerant demo gardens in some areas. Learn more about how you can save water at home at epcor.com. Thank you for helping all of us conserve our precious resources!

Sustainability & Stewardship

As a valued customer of EPCOR, you can trust in our expertise when it comes to sustainable water usage. We prioritize long-term planning, water conservation, and water reclamation, and we take a multi-faceted approach to water supply to ensure that your water needs are met every day. Our commitment to recycling, recharging and reusing water is part of our sustainable efforts to mitigate drought and maintain water supply in our communities. We're constantly working towards improving our services and infrastructure to provide you with the best possible experience. To learn more about our sustainability efforts, please visit epcor.com.

National Safe Digging Month

If you're planning yard projects this spring, please remember to get help identifying underground utility lines before you start digging. Your safety—and the safety of your home and community depend on it. Call 8-1-1 to get your on-site utility lines located and marked for free.

Go Paperless

In honor of Earth Day and every day, we encourage our customers to sign up for paperless billing in your online account portal and get your bill emailed to you each month, saving paper and time. Visit myaccount.epcor.com to get started.

HAPPY EARTH DAY

Monday, April 22, is Earth Day. This year focuses on reducing single-use plastics in our businesses and homes. With the goals of mitigating health risks and finding innovative solutions to using plastic, everyone is encouraged to get involved in making changes. At EPCOR, we adhere to strict federal guidelines to ensure your water supply meets the highest standards. Simple changes are to drink tap water and reduce single use plastic bottles.
